A workshop entitled Social impacts on the recreation experiences of visitors to protected areas was convened by the Department of Conservation, in Wellington, during 13–15 May 1998. This report contains the proceedings of that workshop. A companion report provides a synthesis of the main research and information needs summarised from the workshop, as the basis for developing a research action plan. This has been published under the title: 'Social impacts of visitors to conservation lands. Part 1. Research and information needs, Science & Research Internal Report 171.

Science & Research Internal Reports are written by DOC staff on matters which are on-going within the Department. They include reports on conferences, workshops, and study tours, and also work in progress. Internal Reports are not normally subject to peer review.
